We cannot claim nature, we create with it, respect and admire it. If we open our hearts to its call, we will never again ask why it needs to be collected.

Water, taking the form of a sea, has created our mountains, smoothed them using the force of glaciers and rivers, and still continues to shape their surface.

V visokogorju vladajo ekstremne temperature, ki zahtevajo ekstremne prilagoditve. Če je gozdo posetimo prilagoditi, bomo videli, kakšno so oblika, videti in lego, vendar ne bomo videli.

High-altitude mountains are characterized by extreme conditions that require extreme adaptations. The greater these changes, the more unique the shapes, the sizes and the beauty of the species and their associations.

Rainforest thrives in rich, moist, deep, dark, acidic, and nutrient-rich soil, and is a great source of medicinal plants and animals. It is a product of the chemical composition of the bedrock and the adaptations of the living organisms to the various of its, climate and density conditions.

The amazing diversity of the animals and humans part of the Julian Alps is not here for our admiration, it is a product of the chemical composition of the bedrock and the adaptations of the living organisms to the various of its, climate and density conditions.
